Save the Date! Next K-16 Network Meeting — College Access Networks

Date: December 8th, 2016

Time: 3:00—4:30

Presenter: Nyeema Watson, PhD, Associate Chancellor for Civic Engagement, Rutgers-Camden University, will discuss the work of the Camden College Access Network (CCAN), a collaboration with the Camden City Public Schools and the higher education institutions in the City of Camden (Rutgers-Camden, Rowan University, and Camden County Community College). CCAN is charged with creating educational pathways to increase the number of underrepresented students in and around the city of Camden who apply, enroll and successfully complete post-secondary education. We will discuss how CCAN navigated relationships with school guidance counselors, and is sharing data on college readiness activities.

About PHENND

Our Mission

The Philadelphia Higher Education Network for Neighborhood Development (PHENND) is a consortium of 25+ colleges and universities in the greater Philadelphia area. PHENND works to build the capacity of its member institutions to develop mutually beneficial, sustained, and democratic community-based service-learning partnerships. The consortium actively seeks to revitalize local communities and schools and foster civic responsibility among the region's colleges and universities.

Higher educational institutions can function as permanent anchors and partners for community improvement. Moreover it is deeply in their interests to do so; their futures are intertwined with that of their neighborhoods. PHENND provides a vehicle for coordinating and, where appropriate, combining the efforts of higher eds so that they can make a significant contribution to improving the entire Philadelphia region.

The K-16 Partnerships Network

Operating under the overall PHENND network, the K-16 Partnerships network brings together higher ed faculty and staff who manage partnerships with public schools. The focus is two-fold: learn from each other about best practices and models for K-16 partnerships in general and as appropriate, work with the School District of Philadelphia to help improve and expand K-16 partnerships in Philadelphia.

Each year, the K-16 Partnerships Network co-hosts a series of University Partner meetings in collaboration with the Office of Strategic Partnerships in the School District of Philadelphia. The K-16 Partnerships Network continues to collect and share best practices in college access and success, service-learning, data & evaluation, teacher education & student teaching, and nonprofit partnerships, among other topics.
